RCS Canada celebrates Canada's 150th Anniversary with Bilingual Film Release

Edmonton - Today marks a special time for Canada as we celebrate the 150th anniversary of our country! From coast to coast to coast, Canadians of all backgrounds will come together to celebrate our accomplishments and reflect on the future. On this day, we are thrilled to announce the release of a film project celebrating the history and contributions of the Royal Commonwealth Society of Canada. The film was made possible through a generous donation from the estate of Brian Graves, a long time supporter and patron of the Royal Commonwealth Society.

The Royal Commonwealth Society of Canada promotes Commonwealth initiatives both within Canada, and around the world. Since Confederation, Canada has played an important role in the Commonwealth and we will continue to do so in the months and years ahead. On this Canada Day, let us reflect on our place in the Commonwealth of Nations and come together to celebrate our shared Canadian identity.

On this special day, Canada's 150th Anniversary, we encourage all Canadians to engage with the Commonwealth. Join us today in commemorating Canada Day and celebrating the best parts of what it means to be Canadian!
